

DUO BLANK

PRESS RELEASE – 1st March 2011

Duo Blank announce the release of the first single entitled "Stars on Mars" taken from their upcoming studio album. The single consists of 3 different versions and a remix produced by local dj / producer Lahmar.

"Stars on Mars" is centred around the theme of space travel as seen from behind the Iron Curtain. The single has been launched online on Duo Blank's Facebook, Myspace and Youtube channels. Frank and Edwin chose to launch their single in conjunction with a podcast aired on Youtube and the launch of a new logo and space-inspired visuals which are set to characterise their upcoming studio album release.

The single's Original Edit is inspired by the technopop music of the eighties with distinct melodic synth lines, robotic vocals (vocoder) and also Karen Cachia who provides female backing vocals.

The Gravity Edit is a version akin to the duo's mileage accumulated in the techno events circuit whilst the Re-entry Edit is an atmospheric track with a heavier ending showcasing the duo's versatility in producing songs diverse in style and ambience - this version features also Karen on main vocals. Finally the single features also a remix by upcoming dj / producer Lahmar.

"Stars on Mars" is available for sale online from junodownload.com and iTunes.

Duo Blank will also be playing their first live gig of the year on the 26th March at Cabanas – Paceville.

You may visit Duo Blank on the following websites:

<http://www.noisealliance.com/duoblank>

<http://www.myspace.com/duoblank>

<http://www.facebook.com/#!/pages/Duo-Blank/339963128371>

ОТЕЦ
БЛАВН

STARTS ON

MARS

Inspired by a Soviet era imagery released at the time of Yuri Gagarin's first orbit around the planet Earth.
Artwork design by Yanov Cutajar | screwdogs.com © 2011

DUO BLANK announce the release of the first single entitled "Stars on Mars" taken from their upcoming studio album. The single consists of 3 different versions and a remix produced by local techno artist Lahmar.

"Stars on Mars" is a carefully constructed audio visual project which centres around the theme of space travel as seen from behind the Iron Curtain. The single was launched online way back in December on DUO BLANK's facebook, myspace and youtube channels. Frank and Edwin chose to launch their single in conjunction with a podcast aired on youtube and the launch of a new logo and space-inspired visuals which are set to characterise their upcoming studio album release.

The Original Edit is inspired by the technopop music of the eighties featuring distinct melodic synth lines, robotic vocals (vocoder) and also Karen who provides female backing vocals.

The Gravity Edit is a more club oriented techno version of the song, whilst the Re-entry Edit is a more atmospheric version featuring also Karen on main vocals. Finally the single features also a remix by local techno artist Lahmar.

Stars on Mars is available for sale online from junodownload.com and iTunes.

DUO BLANK NEWS RELEASE - FEBRUARY 2011

screwdogs.com
